Leadership & Public Affairs

One Detroit: Understand your neighbor. Understand your community. Understand Detroit. One Detroit bridges communities of all types through trusted storytelling and engagement. Committed to a mission of promoting regional unity, One Detroit tells the stories that commercial media cannot tell giving context to the complex and urgent issues that affect all of metro Detroit. Nowhere is this better exemplified than the series of convenings we held with our AAPI Board of Advisors and the storytelling that came from those meetings. We also were able to contribute virtual tours of houses of worship as part of the Religious Diversity Journeys. This included separate video tours of a Sikh gurdwara, two Muslim mosques, a Jewish synagogue, and a Catholic church. Beginning in 2020, One Detroit added a second weekly episode focusing on Arts & Culture making us one of the very few media organizations that cover the arts on a consistent basis.

American Black Journal: A weekly series of news, culture, and information from an African American perspective. ABJ’s partnership with BridgeDetroit continues to grow and thrive through our year-long initiative focusing on the Black Church in Detroit. Publishing stories from all eight states and the two Canadian provinces that are part of the Great Lakes watershed, the website provides original news and feature stories as well as timely articles from the Associated Press wire service and other media partnerships.

- The Great Lakes Now monthly program, which launched in April 2019, has been carried by 29 PBS affiliates in seven states and the Bay County, Michigan governmental channel, as well as 800 Canadian cable providers. All the episodes, segments, and previews – as well as some “web extra” videos – are freely available on YouTube and PBS Media.
Before the 2020 pandemic restrictions, the Great Lakes Now team members had engaged with audiences at dozens of conferences, film festivals, stakeholder meetings, classes, and other events. As audience and community engagement moved online, the GLN did as well, fostering new partnerships with organizations to host online watch parties and maintaining existing relationships for similar virtual meetings and experiences where content and expertise was shared.

Governance

Detroit Educational Television Foundation’s written diversity policy outlines our goals and expectations to make diversity a core and abiding strength of the organization.

A key goal at Detroit Educational Television Foundation is to celebrate diversity of Southeast Michigan, which is possible only with a strong, multicultural Board of Trustees providing leadership and governance for the organization.

Seven students completed internships in the Production, Human Resources, Great Lakes Now and WRCJ departments. Participants in the internship program were 57% white and 28.5% African American, 14.5% Asian. Of this total, 29% were male and 71% were female.
